December 2016

GIS

- During December Sarah worked with Mike Kirby and Pat Dowling on docks that needed to be moved to avoid damage. She then generated a mailing list of the owners based on tax rolls. She also assisted in printing notices and envelopes for the notifications.
- Sarah made improvements to the CityWorks map service.
- We continue to work on the Cityworks upgrade. During December, Sarah followed up on action items regarding network connectivity and issues experienced when trying to incorporate County data with City data.

Technology

- In December we held internal meeting to discuss next year's budget request.
- We continued to work with Parks and Recreation on the Christmas light show. When they discovered that credit cards were processing too slowly through the new POS we were able to repurpose the concessions' POS to speed up the process.
- Patrick continues to work on the VMWare upgrade. We ran into a problem with the installation of a new server. This caused delays in the upgrade as we waited for HP and VMWare to provide resolution.
- Our connection to our Business Continuity site was finally completed in December. It is located on the second floor of the Frontier building on Lumber St. The building is designed to survive Cat. 5 storms.
- John Quesenberry continues to work on a network redesign. This is complicated by the complexity of the network

Websites

- Rob is working on updated applications for the City's main web pages.
- He performed a large content management upgrade across all of our sites in addition to security and plugin upgrades.
- Since Gary's retirement at the end of November, Rob has assumed some of the DBA responsibilities until we can fill the position.
- We are also testing Microsoft's Azure for possible hosting and security. Dual factor authentication and Active Directory replication.
